Allegan ends consideration of contracting out police services

The City of Allegan has ended its consideration of contracting out police services.

After community input sessions and a review of a potential agreement with the Allegan County Sheriff's Office, the City decided to end further discussion of a budget option to contract with the county for police services. The idea was first publicly discussed at the April 14 Allegan City Council meeting when City Manager Joel Dye presented it as one of several options to reduce expenses to pay for infrastructure projects.

"Yesterday, our community came out loud and clear to support retaining our Police Department as is," Dye said. "We asked for resident input, and we listened. Contracting with the county for police services is no longer an option on the table.

"As we have shared, the City is operationally sound, but we still need to raise approximately $11 million over the next decade to repair roads, in addition to costs to replace lead water service lines, maintain our parks and other important infrastructure projects. We simply don't have money in our current budget for continued investment in our City's critical infrastructure.

"We must find a financial path that allows us to provide City services while paying for infrastructure needs. We will work collaboratively with our community to find a solution they can both support and participate in."

At the direction of City Council, Dye had outlined the idea to contract police services with the county as one of four potential options to reduce expenses and secure funds to support needed infrastructure projects. Such an arrangement would have saved as much as $750,000 in the first year and $460,905 annually after that, funds that would have been used to pay an infrastructure bond.

"We thank Joel Dye and City staff for their diligent work in responding to the City Council's request to explore funding options for future infrastructure improvements," said Allegan Mayor Traci Perrigo. "We look forward to engaging the community in constructive dialogue as we discuss how to fund these needs in our City."

In preliminary discussions with the county, the City intended to have 1:1 transfer of officers to patrol the City. Additional discussions showed those officers would be required to spend up to 25% of their time outside the City of Allegan, which Dye said was a "nonstarter" for City staff and City Council.

The City hosted three listening sessions on Tuesday April 22. More than 100 residents as well as nonresidents attended these meetings. Support to keep police services with the City was overwhelming.

"We are deeply appreciative of the outpouring of support for the City of Allegan Police Department," Chief Jay Gibson said. "We look forward to moving beyond this conversation as we continue to serve and protect our community."

City of Allegan staff will continue to explore other financing options, including a millage and additional cost reductions.

Sheriff Department shuts down illegal marijuana grow

By Gari Voss

Trowbridge Township announced that the Allegan County Sheriff's Department shut down illegal marijuana grow operations at the old Blackman School and in a pole barn behind it. Trowbridge established a marijuana ordinance, but there are restrictions, and the Township trustees acted to bring the operations into compliance.

Interesting enough, there were four operations in the buildings around the Carter Lumber and the Old Blackman School. One of the operations was growing medical marijuana, and another was legal. But permits for growing operations are required, and two operations never applied for a license. The Township issued citations, but the growers still did not comply with the law, so the Township went to the courts.

Blackman School

Once the Township obtained a court order stating that the locations were in violation of state law and the Township Ordinance, the sheriff department was contacted. On Tuesday, April 22, 2025, deputies and detectives with the Allegan County Sheriff's Department raided the unlicensed marijuana grow operations in Blackman School and the pole barn behind it.

"We are pleased with the cooperative effort by all involved," stated Supervisor Jeff Kaylor. "Our township is now rid of an unlicensed/illegal operations, making our township safer."

Zoning Administrator Larry Ladenburger explained that the Trowbridge leadership knew there were four grow operations in the township, and two had requested permits over the last couple of years. Of those two, he is aware that one is planning on closing its operation this year.

"The marijuana grow operations are like the gas station story," mused Ladenburger. "When stations began popping up on every corner, not all of them could survive. With the marijuana product, a year ago it was worth close to $120 an ounce. Today, it is about $40 an ounce."

Ladenburger surmised that there is more product than there is demand, so growers are struggling. They don't have a good source for processing, so business is tough. Considering that there are several retail stores in Allegan, marijuana products are readily available just about everywhere. Plus, there is a provisioning center in the Allegan Industrial Park.

Sheriff Frank Baker would like to remind everyone that while the use of marijuana is legal, there are still laws and ordinances associated with the growing and selling of marijuana that need to be followed.

Baseline Road crash ends with truck in lake, one dead, several injured

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

Around 7:30pm on Saturday, April 26th, Allegan County Sheriff's deputies were called to the scene of a tragic vehicle crash on Baseline Road, near Hillside Drive and Baseline Lake, in-between Allegan and Gobles.

According to the Sheriff's Office, a westbound pickup truck driver lost control of their vehicle, crossed over the centerline, and side-swiped another truck heading eastbound. The collision then forced the westbound vehicle to veer off of the roadway and hit several bystanders, a tree, and flip over into a shallow portion of Baseline Lake.

Two of the bystanders, as well as the driver and passenger of the westbound truck, were immediately rushed to the hospital. Authorities said one of the bystanders has unfortunately succumbed to their injuries, but have not released the other three's conditions.

No one in the eastbound truck was hurt.

The names and information of everyone involved are being withheld as authorities continue to investigate

In the Southwest Michigan Scanner Facebook group, one resident of Baseline Lake shared a little bit more context. She said there was a mother, a father, and their young daughter sitting by the lake reading a book, when all of a sudden, this white pickup came speeding down Baseline Lake with a seemingly intoxicated driver. The white pickup hit another oncoming truck and careened into the father and daughter.

Although, Wilcox Newspapers was unable to verify her claims, the Allegan County Sheriff's Office has said that they suspect both speed and alcohol contributed to the devastating crash.

Safe Harbor Gala acknowledges child abuse heroes

By Gari Voss

The Safe Harbor Children's Advocacy Center held their 17th Annual Gala to spotlight the continuing needs in Allegan, Barry, and Van Buren Counties for assistance in helping children who suffer abuse and neglect. Executive Director Lori Antkoviak stressed the ongoing support given to hundreds of children who have lost their childhood at the hands of abusive adults.

The Gala is a major fundraising event for the organization whose center is in Allegan while having satellite offices in Hastings and Hartford. The non-profit is nationally accredited as it provides hope and healing through a variety of services. Because of these services, children have a single point of contact rather than traveling between law enforcement agencies and the courts.

"Our services start with prevention then intervention and treatment," explained Antkoviak. "Our centralized, welcoming environment allows us to provide child friendly prevention education, forensic interviews, counseling, medical evaluations, victim advocacy, court advocacy (including our Court Appointed Special Advocates – CASA) and adult trainings. From a child's initial disclosure to their last day of counseling, Safe Harbor guides children through their journey of healing."

There was a full house at The Silo on Thurs., April 24, 2025, as the Safe Harbor Children's Advocacy Center that serves Allegan, Barry and Van Buren Counties held its 17th Annual Gala. People gathered to show support for the efforts of the Safe Harbor staff in meeting the needs of children who suffer from abuse and neglect. Photo: G. Voss

Detective Matt VanderPloeg of the Allegan County Sheriff Department was one of three recipients to receive the Ray Hoffman Child Advocate of the Year Award. The award is in memory of State Trooper Hoffman and given to individuals who demonstrate a passion for addressing abuse and neglect and supporting the children who have lost their childhood at the hands of others. Photo: Safe Harbor

Safe Harbor must seek funding beyond the monies provided by numerous grants and government funding sources which are in a precarious position at this time. By raffling wonderful items such as golf outings, trips, sailing lessons for children, dinner for 6 or 8, and more, the funds begin to grow. The frosting on the cake is the Buttons for Bravery Auction.

The evening's Master of Ceremony was Allegan City Police Chief Jay Gibson. Guests mingled during Cocktails to the music provided by DJ John Kloska and were able to add raffle tickets to boxes in hope of winning a gift of their choice.

As dinner wound down, Antkoviak took the podium to acknowledge people in each county who had been inspirational in their efforts to support not only Safe Harbor, but other agencies in their counties that responded to the needs of children. The Ray Hoffman Child Advocate of the Year Award, in memory of the late Michigan State Trooper, was given to: Detective Matt VanderPloeg of the Allegan County Sheriff Department; Chris Elsworth, the Assistant Prosecuting Attorney in Barry County; and Maggie Hostetler, a Victim Advocate in Van Buren County.

Beyond those who have dedicated careers in agencies, Safe Harbor values their volunteers.

The 2025 Volunteer of the Year Award was given to Michele TerAvest who has donated many hours assisting staff at the new facility.

The evening concluded with the Buttons for Bravery Auction led by Chad TerAvest. This activity allowed guests to donate funds in denominations that would support initial assessments, counseling sessions, medical examinations, etc.

City Council approves Hanse to replace Morgan

By Gari Voss

The April 28, 2925, meeting of the Allegan City Council brought some changes due to the resignation of Councilmember/Mayor Pro Tem Bill Morgan. Future road projects received an update, financial items were completed, and comments heard.

SPECIAL PRESENTATIONS

Appointment of Peter Hanse. The City Council voted to appoint Peter Hanse to complete the unfinished term of former council member Bill Morgan. The term is set to expire in November of 2026.

Appointment of Mayor Pro Tem. The Council voted to postpone the election to fill the Mayor Pro Tem position vacated by Bill Morgan's resignation due to health reasons until the next meeting when Councilmember Peter Hanse will be seated.

Allegan Police Chief Jay Gibson addressed the City Council to thank the community and the council for supporting the Allegan Police officers.

PUBLIC COMMENT

The council was thanked for having the city budget discussions and for the council hearing the voices of the public in keeping the City Police.

REPORTS FROM BOARDS

Planning Commission. Councilmember Peter Westover reviewed the Planning Commission Meeting Minutes. The meeting opened a Public Hearing for a discussion of the new Zoning Ordinance. The discussion will continue at the May 2025 meeting. City Manager Dye announced to those present that there is a vacancy on the Planning Commission and applications are available in the office.

PUBLIC WORKS
Update on 2025/2026 Road Projects

Ely Street. City Manager Dye reported that MDOT opened bids on the Ely Street project that is funded using the Small Urban funding program. The program is capped at $385,000 or 80% of the construction costs, whichever is lower. The Low Bid was $447,031.29 with the Federal Share max at $357,625.03, and the city responsible for $89,406.26.

Airway Drive will be funded by Transportation Economic Development Funding (TEDF) that is currently capped at $375,000 or 80% of the construction costs, whichever is less. Currently, the city is paying Abonmarche Engineering for design ($55,000) and construction ($47,000) engineering. The plan is that the project will go out for bids during the fall/winter and construction will begin in the spring of 2026. The estimated cost is $787,936 with the TEDF (MDOT) grant paying $375,000, and the city paying $412,936.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Accounts Payable and Payroll. The request that the City Council approve accounts payable in the amount of $275,323.25 and payroll in the amount of $250,408.97 for a total disbursement of $525,732.22 was approved.

3rd quarter budget adjustments. The request to adopt Resolution 25.13 to approve FY2025 3rd quarter budget adjustments passed. The basic adjustments were made when the Council approved expenditures during previous meeting. Several adjustments were made for grants.

Review of the March 2025 Revenue & Expenditure report. Finance Director Tracy Stull felt that nothing was unusual. Westover asked about bonds. Stull did not know the exact figures but shared that details in prior budgets are on the website, or individuals can contact her.

Public Hearing for FY2026 Budget. The Public Hearing for the budget was scheduled for the May 12, 2025, Council meeting.

City Property Use. The request to approve amendments to the Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual to specify that non-city employees are not allowed to use city property because of liability issues passed.

Council Goals. City Manager Dye opened the idea that the goal setting begun during the Strategic Planning Session on January 18, 2025, needs to be finalized. Council member Canales felt that the new members are now better informed and ready to make goal decisions.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Citizens thanked the council for keeping the city police while bringing up concerns about the condition of the city streets like Bridge Road that need repairs. A suggestion was made to consider turning non-traditional city expenditures like the Regent Theater and the Griswold Auditorium over to non-profits. Signs stating We Love Our Police are now available and can be purchased with a small donation. A thought was also made to have a millage for the City Police that would parallel the millage that funds the Allegan District Library.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY MANAGER

City Manager Dye shared that city events are possible because of sponsorships for Bridgefest and Rollin' on the River. Currently, there are no sponsorships for Bridgefest. City Hall has sponsorship forms, and all levels of sponsorship will be welcome.

The rental inspection program needs to be revisited, but the discuss can only happen when the Council requests this to be placed on the agenda.

An idea had been brought to Dye to tie the funding of the police with the township. He cautioned that this takes discussion with the township.

Dye takes a vacation until May 6th, and Parker Johnson will be in charge.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

While sharing, Council Member Mike Zeter made the motion that all city council meetings, including budgeting sessions, be recorded. During the discussion, a suggestion was made to train volunteers or others to operate the equipment. The motion passed.

Council Member Will Walker asked that the discussion regarding the rental inspections be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Council Member Melanie Hooker thanked all who showed support for the city police and council. The next informal chat with council members will be at the Library May 14th from 6-8pm.

Perrigo – thanked Joel for coming up with options to find the $500,000 to meet the budget. She expressed her sadness that some people in the community were inappropriate when sharing their opinions. She stressed that there are no winners or losers in these discussions. There should be no pumping of fists. The council works to listen to ideas and come to the best decisions to create a city where people want to live and visit.

Housing Summit examines needs and possibilities

By Gari Voss

The Allegan County Housing Summit, held on Friday, April 25, 2025, at the Griswold Auditorium in Allegan, afforded participants from cities, towns and townships the opportunity to examine the county's housing needs from different perspectives – Development and Construction, Zoning and Creating a Housing Climate, and Brownfield Redevelopment and TIF. The Summit was designed by Chris Kleinjans, the Community Impact Officer for the Allegan County Community Foundation and Mohamed Gabow, a CEDAM Fellow who is working with the City of Allegan.

Through extensive needs assessments supported by the Allegan County Community Foundation, it has been determined that approximately 6,200 units of housing are needed in the county. Kleinjans, and now Gabow, have been working at building a network of municipalities, support organizations, contractors, financial institutions, and governmental entities who are brave enough to move forward with housing projects that will reduce the deficits in the housing market.

John Bitley, the CEO of Sable Homes, jumped right in to explain how the cost of housing can make a contractor think twice before moving into a housing project. Contractors have been able to utilize MSHDA grants to cover some costs. Those funds do require that the project is new construction or requires substantial rehabilitation, the project must be for year round rental or for sale housing to lower income households, and the contractor must begin construction within three months from when the grant is awarded while securing a Certificate of Occupancy within 24 months after the grant agreement.

There are barriers to housing projects that begin with the cost of land. This may be one of the simpler barriers to cross, but there may be municipal zoning restrictions that slow progress. Then there is the cost of construction as materials have skyrocketed since COVID and do not show signs of coming down. Finally, where some funds require single-family housing, other state funds focus on rentals or multi-family housing. A positive in the Sable line is their May Apple Model that sits on a slab, thus reducing the cost of installing a basement.

Bitley took time to walk the audience through the steps of identifying property that can be developed and working with landowners or municipalities or state and local landbanks.

The conversation was then turned over to Brian Farkus, the director of Workforce Housing with Allen Edwin Homes. Even though Allen Edwin is the largest home builder in Michigan, they still face the same barriers of the smaller companies. Farkus focused on their initiative started eight years ago in Copper Bay to construct build-to-lease homes. The leased homes have been expanded to offering home for sales. The Workforce Housing Initiative began three years ago that concentrated on providing attainable housing solutions for middle-income earners in urban and rural settings.

Allen Edwin's Property Improved Lease Program (PILOT) agreement with municipalities such as Muskegon, MI has enabled them to construct affordable workforce housing. The rents are expected to range from $1,400 to $1,700, but one downside of this could be that these are rental rather personal ownership homes. An example of Allen Edwin's homes to buy is the housing development now under construction at 500 Delano St. in Allegan.

The presentation moved into zoning that could create a housing-ready climate. Zoning Administrator Lori Castello moved the participants through examples of zoning that could facilitate the construction of a housing development. This would pertain to rural and urban municipalities while being quite attainable.

The morning ended with a closer look at Brownfield Redevelopment and TIF. Samantha Mariuz, an Economic Development Manager with Flies & Vandenbrink, and Jared Lutz, a Project Manager with Michigan Growth Advisors, guided the audience through murky water with the intent of educating the group as to why and how the financial piece might be attained.

Brownfields have changed over the years from focusing on land that was tainted with blight or contamination during previous use to now including the reconstruction of older buildings and even assisting with new housing developments. What has not changed is that for a contractor and municipality to use these funds, there must be a Brownfield Commission and Brownfield Plan.

TIF, or Tax Increment Financing, is a public financing tool used to fund projects that support community development by diverting future property tax revenue increases from a specific district. The funds can be used to make infrastructure improvements, install public services, or construct private development. In addition, a TIF can be structured differently for each entity. By adjusting taxes today, construction can be accomplished, but it only defers the payment which will return to a normal rate.

As Summit participants from townships, towns and cities exited the summit, they had much to digest. The main reason many came was to gather information. Now they must determine how this information can relate to their jurisdictions. As each community moves forward, it must keep in mind what is in the best interest of the community being served.

Attendees and those who may have missed the Summit can contact Chris Kleinjans through the Allegan County Community Foundation (ACCF), 269.673.8344, and Mohamed Gabow through the City of Allegan, 269 673-5511. The goal is to find ways to create affordable housing across Allegan County. At this time, there is a shortage that makes it difficult for individuals and families to stay in the communities near where they work.

In 2023, the Allegan County Community Foundation (ACCF) decided to address the housing shortage. Utilizing the Multi-Agency Collaborative Council (MACC), Community Action of Allegan County (CAAC) and other organizations seeking safe housing for residents, ACCF started building a network of developers, government leaders, and advocates.

At this point, there is a concerted effort to expand senior housing, bring in new funding sources like affordable housing tax credits, and engage local lenders in supporting housing developments. Collaborative efforts like the Allegan County Housing Summit continue to build a network that not only addresses the housing shortage but puts into motion the building of affordable housing across the county.

The Allegan County Housing Initiative is a collaborative focus of ACCF with Community Action of Allegan County, OnPoint, United Way and Allegan County. With financial support from Perrigo, Haworth, Parker-Hannifin, Gun Lake Tribe, the Rotary Clubs of Allegan County and the Office of Rural Prosperity.

Lee Township prepares to unveil 2000 Time Capsule

By Gari Voss

Wednesday, April 23, 2025, a group of Lee Township residents gathered at the Lee Township Cemetery on 105th Avenue and 53rd Street to dig up the Lee Township Time Capsule that was filled and buried in 2000.

2000 Trustee Dan Ciokiewicz and 2000 Township Supervisor Sally Moore, two of the original group that collected articles, summoned a small crew to uncover the capsule. Ciokiewicz with the assistance of Mike Curley, the cemetery superintendent, dug under the plaque near the veteran's memorial in the middle of the cemetery to locate the 25 year old tube.

Sally Moore and Dan Ciokiewicz hold a copy of the South Haven Tribune that holds their pictures and reported on the burying of the Lee Township Time Capsule in 2000. Though the paper listing the contents has been misplaced, the exact contents will be revealed before the Lee Township meeting on Monday, May 12, 2025.

After seeking information from several who remember placing items in the capsule, it was discovered that the Table of Contents sheet had been misplaced. A couple pieces were remembered like a Pokemon card. Deb Laraway remembers putting in newspaper articles with the news of the day. Ciokiewicz and Moore will be as surprised as others when the contents are laid out on tables.

With the assistance of Scott Owen (previous supervisor), Lisa Galdikas (previous trustee), Dan Ciokiewicz (Dan's son), Rich Rawson (current supervisor), and Curley, the capsule was pulled from its hole. It will be carried to the Lee Township Hall and opened prior to the beginning of the Lee Township Meeting on Monday, May 12, 2025, at 7pm.

On May 12, 2025, articles will be collected to place in the 2025 Lee Township Time Capsule that will be buried for the next 25 years.

Ciokiewicz stated, "Any business, organization or individual who would like to participate can included items in the new capsule. Some ideas would be photos of the building or anything pertaining to the business, a brief history, or information about employees, owners or members, a prediction for the future, or anything else imaginable."

What is important to remember is that the articles will be collected on May 12, 2025.

"I had a lot of fun putting the capsule together in 2000, and this time should be even more enjoyable," shared Ciokiewicz.

"I again thank the Lee Township Board of 2000 for allowing this to take place, and I thank the 2025 Lee Township Board for allowing the recovery and addition of the new time capsule to the cemetery," expressed Ciokiewicz. "Mark the calendar for May 12, 2025."

Rich Rawson, Lee Township Supervisor, Lisa Galdikas (previous trustee), Scott Owen (previous supervisor), young Dan Ciokiewicz (Dan's son), Sally Moore (previous supervisor), Mike Curley (cemetery superintendent), and Dan Ciokiewicz (previous trustee) look forward to opening the Lee Township Time Capsule that was filled and buried in 2000.

Pleasure Riders take to trail for Wings and Wings Home

By Gari Voss

Allegan County Pleasure Riders (ACPR) will hit the trails through Silver Creek, 3900 134th Ave., Hamilton, to collect money for Wings of Hope and Wings Home on Saturday, May 17, 2025, beginning at 9am. Riders can register Friday between 7 and 8pm or Saturday from 8:30-11:30am. Riders must enter a trail by noon and complete the ride by 4pm.

This is an event that can be turned into a wonderful outing for families and friends, especially those who have had families or friends who have utilized the services of these wonderful organizations. Additional information can be found on the Allegan County Pleasure Riders' Facebook page.

The trails are well marked thanks to the Friends of the Allegan County Equestrian Trail System (FACETS) whose teams have been working all spring to clear trails. Their efforts were recently supplemented during the Poker Ride.

FACETS efforts were supplemented by ACPR members. The Pleasure Riders help annually with spring cleanup within the Silver Creek Park. On Saturday, April 19th, members went through all the campsites under the direction of Park Ranger Kim, cleaning firepits, trimming back brush within the sites, along with picking up and removing downed branches from over the winter and early spring, preparing the park for a great 2025 season. These volunteers have made it possible for riders to choose a long or short loop through the peaceful forest.

This is the 51st Annual Benefit Ride for equestrians who carry on the tradition of assisting a non-profit organization. A minimum donation of $30 for individuals and $40 for a family includes the Park's ride fee, a prize table ticket, T-shirt (1 for individuals and 2 for a family), and lunch. Liability forms must be signed by each rider, and riders under 18 must be accompanied by an adult.

To enter the Grand Prize Drawings, a minimum of $100 must be donated for an individual or family. For each additional $50, an individual or family will receive another ticket. There is no limit to additional tickets.

There are also tickets to use at the prize tables.

To celebrate the 51st Annual Ride, there will be an additional drawing for a collapsible folding wagon with tabletop. With an entry donation, riders will receive one special ticket for an individual or family.

Special gifts will be awarded to the three highest donation collectors, oldest adult rider, youngest boy and girl rider completing the ride on their own horse, and the individual who comes the furthest distance with their own horse. Plus, prizes will be awarded to those who find and turn in decorated horseshoes hidden on the trails.

All prizes will be presented at 4pm, and winners must be present.

Overnight camping can be requested at allegancountryparks.org. Day parking is available. Any dog must be kept on a leash in camp, but not on the trails.

The Pleasure Riders wish to acknowledge those who contributed to the many prizes. The Grand Prize of the Circle Y Daisetta Saddle was donated by Millbrook Tack and the Sponsors. ACPR and Sponsors donated the Portable Garage Shelter, the Outdoor Patio Table, Umbrella & Chairs Set, and Backyard Fireplace with Spark Screen & Safety Ring. Items on the Prize Tables were donated by ACPR members, participants and local merchants. The lunch of hot dogs, chili, cheese, chips, and drink was donated by Neighbors House Bar & Grill, and will be served from noon to 3pm.

Dr. Carissa Coulson from Michigan Mixed Animal Veterinary Services will be available at the riders' expense.

There is no Rain Date. To obtain additional information, contact Pam at 616 490-1627.

Obituaries

James J. Sebright, 83

James J. Sebright, 83, peacefully passed away on Tuesday, April 22, 2025 at his home in Plainwell, MI. Prior to passing, Vicki leaned in and whispered, "Jim, hold a spot for me." A precious moment and testament of their love for one another. While in her grief, Vicki did her best to incorporate Jim's vibrant sense of humor.

Jim was born on January 22, 1942 in Plainwell, Michigan, the son of Howard and Marion Sebright. He was raised in Wayland. Jim was an outdoorsman at heart. In his childhood, Jim enjoyed fishing, baseball, and running around town with his brothers and good buddy, Wayne, in what they called, "the jungle", by the bowling alley.

On October 21, 1967, James married Vicki Byron of Gobles. Jim and Vicki made their first home on Duck Lake, later moving to Allegan, where they resided for forty seven years before moving to Plainwell. Jim was a graduate of Wayland Union High School and Western Michigan University. Jim proudly served his country in the United States Army. After his years of service, Jim began his career at Rockwell International working for almost twenty five years as a Production Scheduler, while working part time at Gordon Funeral Residence. During this time, Jim returned to complete his Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration at Western. Jim ended his career working for K-Line Industries in Holland.

Jim's dedication to his family didn't go unnoticed, as he was asked to be the best man in his son's wedding. He worked side by side with his son (and daughter in law) in lawn care and renovating homes. Jim loved attending each of his granddaughter's sporting events and was a proud grandpa. Jim's sense of humor brought laughter to so many. He often missed (or chose to ignore) the ques when Vicki had heard enough. Jim had an incredibly strong work ethic and will always be known for his willingness to help family, and friends alike. Jim's woodworking skills brought a beautiful workmanship to their family home, which he loved caring for with all his energy. Jim took great pride in caring for his vegetable garden and Vicki's flower beds.

Jim left us with a special expression of love for his brother in laws, as they will forever have an irreplaceable bond. As Jim navigated the last years of his life with dementia, he was comforted by the selfless efforts of Vicki and Lisa's constant care, allowing him to remain in his home until his passing. He loved relaxing with his grand-dogs Reese and Clementine; they provided a sense of calming for him.

Surviving are his wife, Vicki, his daughter, Lisa, his son and daughter in law, Brad (Susie) Sebright, three beautiful granddaughters, Samantha, Olivia and Ellie, of whom he thought the world of. Jim was preceded in death by his beloved parents, Howard and Marion, and his two brothers, Barry and Curt, as well as, his father and mother in law, Edwin and Evelyn Byron.

As a family, we would like to extend our love and gratitude to the Mortensen Family for tenderly taking Jim home to camp one last time.

Cremation has taken place. The family will hold a private interment at Lindsley Cemetery. A celebration of life will follow at the Hartman Banquet Center in Allegan on Monday, May 5 from 4:00 – 7:30 p.m. Memorials can be made to Centrica Care Navigators, 7100 Stadium Dr., Kalamazoo, 49009.

He was able to enjoy many years of traveling with his wife, Sally A. McLaughlin, whom he wed on September 28th, 1957. She preceded him in death five years ago, after 62 years of marriage. Surviving are their two children, Rosemary (Troy) McKenney of Allegan, and Brian (Nikki) McLaughlin of Hopkins, grandchildren; Brandon McKenney (Stacey Smith), Brittney (Travis) Bambacht, Brianna (Steven) Johnson, Alyssa McLaughlin, and Lindsey McLaughlin (Travis

LIVING WITH GRIEF

BY RONNIE EWING/ AFTERCARE SPECIALIST

LIVING WITH GRIEF, is a monthly column provided by GordenFuneral Residence. Each month LIVING WITH GRIEF will feature some helpful advice as you the reader move forward through your personal grieving process, or simply want to be educated to help those whom you may know have recently experienced a loss, or traumatic event.

I recently started pastoring a local church as an interim. It has been awesome, and a great fit for me as well. One Sunday one of the parishioners shared a mini talk on why he is, "Not Alone." It was very encouraging! And it got me thinking.. In a community either through faith, or a social setting whether we admit it or not. We are truly never alone. In grieving each person is different, unique. Some have triggers, some don't. Some suffer major depression, others do not. Reason being, I would say it is because we are all strong in areas others are not. But, put us in a community and watch it bring out harmony and unity. A great equation that leads to healing, as we work together and continue, LIVING WITH GRIEF.

Number of college administrators alarming

MIKE'S MUSINGS

MIKE WILCOX

■ PUBLISHER ■

Many of you have read my rants concerning higher education. I believe the cost is outrageous and it certainly far outweighs the benefit most students receive.

One of the reasons costs have risen extensively over the past decade is that universities and colleges have added hundreds of new administrators to their payroll. Thus they have determined more administrators are needed despite college enrollment decreasing.

I can remember when I was in college, we had three administrators- a president, a provost and admissions director. Granted it was a small college, 1400 students, but compared to today's world we were beyond frugal.

College enrollment is decreasing, you didn't know. Yes, it is predicted, according to Forbes, that enrollment will fall by 15 percent in the next four years. That likely means several schools will close their doors.

But in the meantime, many schools have determined they need more administrators. For what, it is a mystery. Between 1976 and 2018, full-time administrators and other professionals employed by institutions of higher learning increased by 164% and 452% respectively. Compare that to increased student enrollment of 78% and increased faculty positions by 92%.

Essentially that means faculty and student enrollment is on par, but administrative hirings have increased substantially. Some schools reportedly have more full-time administrators than students. To name a few one only must look at Duke, University of California at San Diego and the California Institute of Technology. Each has several more administrators than actual full-time students on campus.

Looking at individual schools the numbers are even more striking. A recent report showed the top 50 schools have 1 faculty per 11 students whereas the same report shows the same institutions have 1 non-faculty per 4 students. I'm sorry those statistics should be switched. No way should there be more administrators than faculty.

I can't imagine what purpose these administrators serve and why in the world would there be more of them than students. The aforementioned numbers don't even include the myriad of consultants and contractors that are hired by admissions offices to promote the schools and boost enrollments.

Forbes claims the explosion of administrators has occurred because of more government regulations and the natural tendency of administrators to solve most problems by hiring more administrators.

They also claim the explosion would never have happened without the growing availability of federal aid and student loans. Instead of pouring the additional monies in to more programs for students or adding more professors, institutions decided the best route was to hire more and more administrators.

Forbes concluded, "With no market or regulatory forces to contain the reckless spending behavior of colleges and universities, school presidents have focused on fundraising, not good management."

It will be interesting to see with the decreasing enrollment projections at most schools of higher learning (we are already experiencing it in Michigan} how they will handle the administrative bloat. Will they begin to lay them off, or will they risk closing their doors? I don't want to see anyone lose their job, but in this environment, something has to give.

Life as Performance Art

G CORWIN STOPPEL

If there is anything good to be said about doing mindless work such as blowing leaves out of the ground cover, it is that I allow my brain to wander off and play. When it comes back and we reengage, I discover it has some interesting adventures to share. The other day was a good example: I started thinking about hood ornaments on cars.

If you are an Old of a certain age, or a fan of vintage autos, you will remember hood ornaments. Originally, they served a purpose as the radiator cap, but they were designed and built to add more beauty to the vehicle. In time, they became more elaborate. For a few decades they were also a convenient place to hold a canvas bag full of water, always ready to be poured into an over-heating radiator.

Then, when canvas bags were no longer essential for the cooling system, and the radiator cap was moved under the hood, they had far less purpose, but for a while the ornaments continued. Each manufacturer had their own design. Jaguar had a big cat ready to pounce; Rolls Royce had their flying lady, and so on. They were a bit whimsy, but in time they disappeared, only to be replaced by a small metallic emblem on the hood.

In short, automobile hood ornaments were demoted to what might be called "useless beauty." That happened to other decorations as well. Remember how the Buick had vent holes in the fenders that were connected to the exhaust system. Long after the exhaust went through the tail pipe, Buick continued this traditional symbol.

Look for it, and you can find what some would call useless beauty in many places. If you have ever visited San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, you will come across hundreds of centuries old wooden doors. Doors are functional, which means they are used to keep things either in or out of the house. Many of these old doors are magnificently carved, and carefully preserved as objects of beauty that some might consider "useless." Why bother with the extra expense and work of a carved door? Fortunately, when SMA became a World Heritage Site, the city ordered the doors to be preserved.

Or look at some of the pictures of the entrances to the subways of Paris - the Metropolitan. Some are more than a century old and are beautifully crafted iron signs in the Art Nouveau and Art Deco styles. They add a bit of beauty to the streetscape. Compare their beauty to the dull subway signs in Chicago, New York, and elsewhere. To be sure, the new styles convey the same message, but which is more appealing to the eye? Or is it merely 'useless beauty?'

There are many other such example, and together they prove that beauty is never useless. You and I spend considerable money and effort to plant and maintain a flower garden, but the blooms last for such a short time. Some would say we should stop doing it because it is too expensive. We should pave it over, put down grass seed, or plant vegetables instead. Yet, we do it because flowers add beauty to our life, and therein is their usefulness. We might cut a few steps, put them in a vase, and set them on our dining room table as a way of bringing beauty into our home.

Pat was a real stickler for adding "useless beauty" to almost everything. The dining room table had to be set so that everything on it was aligned and balanced, not strewn about like casually dealt playing cards. She did not see food as mere fuel for the body, but an opportunity to create something that looked beautiful, and presented artistically. It did not matter if we were having a 'fancy meal' or a salad, sardines, and vegetables from the garden. Presentation was as important as the taste.

We ate at the table, not over the sink, because the ambience added value to our lives. In turn it led to many hours long conversations. The ideas and suggestions went back and forth, and we both benefited.

In short, the few minutes of adding a bit of beauty to lunch made wonderful changes in our lives.

Four great philosophers: Elbert Hubbard, William Morris, John Ruskin, and Frank Lloyd Wright taught that form and function take on their greatest meaning when they result in beauty. Morris' great dictum was, "Have nothing in your house that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful."

This is vitally important because whatever surrounds us, in whatever form, influences our life. We become our environment. If we surround ourselves with ugliness or jutting juggernauts of junk, our heart and mind will imitate it. Our mind will cluttered and distracted, or we will become ugly and trashy people. Conversely, if we believe that there is elegance in simplicity, we get rid of the superfluous inventory.

This applies to people, as well. If we associate primarily with people whose vocabulary is primarily limited to four letter words, we will start talking like them. If we associate with people who have chosen to exclude vulgarity, we become like them, and we influence others.

Above all, if we surround ourselves with anger, hatred, bigotry, prejudice, meanness, pettiness or insulting words directed at others, we are influenced in that direction. In short order, we will become just like them. I think that also includes the sources of our entertainment, but above all our news. Before long, many of those who sought out the anger and ugliness will rally around a leader who promotes it, or join together with other like-minded individuals.

There is no such thing as "useless beauty." All of it is essential, but it requires attention to detail and, above all, a sense of inner awareness. Does it have form, function, and is it genuine? To answer those questions in the affirmative means having a heart as well as a brain. When those qualities come together, we have something memorable.

In the days leading up to Easter, I watched as a member of our parish worked on the design of our Easter morning bulletin. Basically, a bulletin is a collection of pages which contained all of the information: music, readings, the liturgy, etc. Instead, he spend hours selecting the right fonts, medieval drawings and artwork, and carefully placed them to create a memorable booklet. To be sure, it was something that very likely would only be used for a few hours, but it added to the beauty of the morning, and as inspiring.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CAAC concerned Head Start may shut down

Dear Editor:

Throughout Michigan and in Allegan County, Head Start and Early Head Start are making a real difference. Community Action of Allegan County (CAAC) provides childcare and preschool services so that 337 children and their families have the chance to work, learn and grow. On Friday, April 11 our agency received word from the National Head Start Association that President Trump's FY26 budget proposal calls for the elimination of Head Start and Early Head Start Program(s).

While CAAC recognizes the elimination of funding for these critical programs is merely a proposal or blueprint and would need Congressional approval, the loss of Head Start and Early Head Start funding would be devastating to hundreds of local families and children.

CAAC's Early Education Services (EES) provide early learning to children at or below the federal poverty level, those experiencing homelessness, foster care or kinship care, and a significant percentage of children with disabilities. EES programs are locally controlled, driven by community needs assessments and designed to provide parents living in our community, the support they need to go to work or school … knowing their child is in a safe, nurturing educational environment. Seventy-five percent of the parents we currently serve are working or in job training.

Head Start and Early Head Start have a long history of bi-partisan support, because it strengthens our local economy. EES funding provides economic stability for 113 committed CAAC staff members and invests approximately $7M in local services. For every dollar of federal funding received, CAAC leverages an additional $7 in local dollars … creating $49M in economic impact to businesses and community partners.

The loss of these funds and these programs would have devastating consequences for children, families, and the economy across our community. These include:

For children, the loss of crucial early education and health services. The loss of early learning, healthy meals, vision, hearing, and developmental screenings, and dental care for 800,000 of our nation's most at-risk children … 377 children in Allegan County.

• For parents, an affordable childcare option that allows them to go to work or finish school. In addition, Head Start actively involves parents, assisting them with access to employment, continuing education, healthcare, and housing … which can break the multigenerational cycle of poverty.

• For our local economy, the loss of Head Start would result in job losses not just for educators and staff, but for parents who rely on the program to go to work. Without childcare, low-income families may need to quit their jobs to avoid incurring the excessive costs of private childcare.

If CAAC's 11 Head Start classrooms and 2 Early Head Start Centers were too close, it would affect more than just children. It would weaken our entire local economy. All Head Start dollars go back into the community through wages, supplies, and services needed by our programs and our staff. Again, every dollar invested in Head Start returns $7 in long-term benefits through better education, health, and employment outcomes.

As the Chair of Community Action of Allegan County's Board of Directors, I ask you to join our agency in protecting early education in our community. You too can TAKE ACTION to ensure these critical programs continue to support vulnerable children and families by contacting our local representatives.

Please call the U.S Capital Switchboard at (202) 224-3121, which will connect you to the correct Congressional or Senate office. A staff member will pick up the phone. If a staff member does not answer, please leave a message in support and protect funding for CAAC's Head Start and Early Head Start Program. protect funding for Head Start and Early Head Start Programs.

If you have additional questions or concerns regarding advocacy for CAAC's Early Education Programs or other services, please feel free to reach out to Lisa Evans, CAAC's Executive Director at levans@communityactoinallegan.org or by phone at (269) 673-5472 ext. 232. Food Alliance extends appreciation

To the Editor,

On behalf of the Allegan Food Alliance, I want to extend our appreciation to the community for making our second annual Allegan Seed Fair such a meaningful success.

Thanks to funding from the Allegan Conservation District, generous seed company sponsors and the hospitality of the Allegan District Library and the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, we were able to share hundreds of seed packets, host workshops, and gather as neighbors who care deeply about growing our own food—and growing stronger together.

We're not done. We still have more than 2,100 seed packets, many unique varieties, available to share, free of charge, through the Allegan Seed Library and Seed Bank at our office at 221 Suite B, Trowbridge Street. If you missed the fair, we invite you to stop by or reach out—we'd love to help you get growing.

We also want to acknowledge a challenge we're facing: due to ongoing construction in the city lot behind our office, our entrance—which has never been ADA-compliant—has become even more difficult to access. While we recognize that this is private property and part of a broader improvement plan, we're committed to making our space safe and welcoming for all.

If you have expertise in accessible design or know of a space that could serve as a temporary or permanent home for our work, we'd love to hear from you. Food access starts with physical access—and we believe that, together, Allegan can lead by example.

Warmly,
Mary Colborn
Executive Director, Allegan Food Alliance

Letters to the Editor

Trump's Tariffs Make No Sense

Dear Editor:

I read the April 17 Mike's Musings titled "Give tariffs a chance, they may work." The editor seems to believe that, for tariffs to work, other countries will come to America and build their products here and hire our people, thus restoring the American Dream and saving the middle class. The editor stated that "tariffs make sense", "higher prices may come for a while" and "the price of gasoline should come down substantially."

A deeper dive into Trump's broad based tariffs is needed here. Trump on February 1 justified imposing tariffs on Mexico, Canada and China under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act ("IEEPA") based on an "extraordinary threat" from illegal immigration and drug trafficking. Trump's legal problem here is that the IEEPA does not-explicitly grant tariff authority at all. The words "duty" or "tariff" appear nowhere in the statute. Congress has the sole power to regulate foreign commerce and impose tariffs. Further, since tariffs are paid by American importers and generally passed on to consumers, tariffs are taxation without representation unless Congress authorizes them.

Trump later added the notion of rectifying trade deficits with other countries who "have been ripping us off" for decades. Trade deficits are really irrelevant. For example, Vietnam sells us many products, e.g. textiles, footwear, telephones, office machine parts, foods, etc. A poorer country, like Vietnam, cannot buy in quantities like we buy. To expect it to buy from us -as much as we buy from them makes no sense, sorry. There will always be trade deficits with other countries.

One should note that, not only are Trump's tariffs unlawful, there is. no sound policy behind them. Trump is making it up as he goes, day by day. It is chaotic and not worthy of a great nation. It is impossible for business people to plan in this environment.

According to Gas Buddy, if tariffs cause an economic slowdown (or recession, or worse depression) , gas prices will decline with other sectors of the economy. I guess this is a silver lining to the expected rise in inflation. Prices are down presently as the switch is made to Summer blends.

I urge readers to look up the Ben Stein scene in the 1986 movie titled "Ferris Bueller's Day Off" where Stein explains to his clueless students the disastrous effects of the 1930 SmootHawley Tariff Act which failed miserably and deepened the Great Depression. Tariffs did not raise revenue as represented. Trump's tariffs are many times more extreme. Trump and his advisors seem to be as clueless as Ben Stein's students.

Before JD Vance became Vice President, he gave an honest opinion regarding tariffs. Between 2016 and 2019, Vance argued on multiple occasions that American jobs sent overseas won't return as he opposed hyper protectionists (his words) and their trade policies. He said so many of these jobs that have disappeard just aren't coming back. In January 2017, he said these jobs haven't disappeared so much from globalization or from shipping them overseas. He said they have largely disappeared because of automation and because of new technological change. Vance said in February 2017 that if you are worried about America's economic interest, focus more on automation and education than trade protectionism. (You can look back to McKinley and 1900 or you can look forward.) Do broad based tariffs make sense? Not according to Vance when he was not handcuffed to Trump.

I urge readers to Google Professor Justin Wolfers' "Trump's tariffs will change your life" dated April 8, 2025. He is a professor of economics at the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan and a Senior Fellow at the Peterson Institute for International Economics. Wolfers says tariffs cause inflation. Higher prices will come with tariffs. The editor says maybe "for a while." Trump admits it will be years. To build and retool factories will take many years. Wolfers says the economy will contract and slow down. If you didn't like President Biden's economy, you are going to absolutely hate Trump's economy.

On March 27, 2025, the US Chamber of Commerce succinctly stated that to achieve our nation's growth goals, we need to sell more "Made in America" goods and services to the 95% of the world's consumers who live outside our borders. Broad based tariffs will hurt this more than they will help. The US Chamber of Commerce is being kind and generous. Trump's broad based tariffs make no sense.

Thank you,
R Hodgson

Allegan's priorities are misplaced

Dear Editor:

As a concerned citizen of Allegan, I'm alarmed by the continued pattern misplaced priorities and growing disconnect coming out of City Hall — particularly under the leadership of City Manager Joel Dye.

Let's look at the facts: 15.1% of Allegan residents live below the poverty line, and the median household income is just $42,261. These aren't just statistics — they represent hard-working families trying to survive in an economy that keeps demanding more from them. And yet, Mr. Dye takes home a salary of $123,451, nearly triple what the average Allegan family earns. It raises a fair question: Is he out of touch with what his taxpayer constituents can realistically afford?

Rather than offering responsible solutions or addressing budget inefficiencies, Joel Dye continues to push bonds — essentially asking voters to take on more debt to fix problems caused by poor financial planning. After his proposal to cut funding for the police department triggered widespread public outrage, he shifted course and stated, "If the community is adamant about retaining our police department, we could look at the possibility of a voter-approved millage." That's not leadership, it's manipulation. Essentially, "If you want to keep your police department, you better be ready to pay for it — again."

The truth is, they can't simply raise taxes — we're already nearing the legal limit of what can be levied against taxpayers. Any further increase would require voter approval through a bond. Yet, they treat this as if it's the standard, acceptable way to secure more funding. It's not. Relying on bonds as a go-to solution isn't responsible governance — it's a sign of poor planning and financial mismanagement.

Try asking voters if they're truly willing to take on debt to fund a walking bridge, park upgrades, downtown development projects, airport improvements, or an auditorium that continues to drain city resources while remaining largely inaccessible to the very taxpayers footing the bill. You'll get your answer quickly. Residents aren't asking for more beautification projects or costly developments — they're calling for fiscal responsibility, public safety, and access to essential services.

This is a wake-up call. City Council works for the people — not for the City Manager. There's power in numbers – please consider showing up to the City County meeting on April 28 to speak together and remind our leaders who they work for.

Are You Ready For Martial Law?

Dear Editor:

On January 20, 2025, President Trump issued an executive order (i.e. Proclamation 10886 of January 20, 2025 - Published Document: 2025-01948 (90 FR 8327) titled Declaring A National Emergency At The Southern Border Of The United States. It gave Defense Secretary Hegseth and Homeland Security Secretary Noem ninety (90) days to deliver a joint report on whether he should invoke the Insurrection Act of 1807 ("the Act").

The Act gives the president the authority to deploy the U.S. military on American soil and use it for civilian law enforcement. The Act is dangerously vague and in urgent need of reform. The Act is overbroad and ripe for abuse. It allows the president to suppress rebellion or domestic violence. It is the primary exception to the Posse Comitatus Act, which bars the military from participating in civilian law enforcement. Invocation will mean suspending protest rights. It will mean bypassing governors under the pretense of restoring "order". It will mean the end of democratic (small d) dissent.

Since returning to office, President Trump has purged the Pentagon of those soldiers and officers who swore an oath to the Constitution above all else.

On March 19th, VP Vance, DNI Director Gabbard, and Defense Secretary Hegseth visited our southern border for essentially a photo shoot. So why make a media spectacle of the visit? Laying the groundwork for invoking the Act. You can figure that by June or July 2025, the mantra will be "We had to act," or "We had no choice," or "The crisis was too big." We will be told that "Democratic" cities are under siege by "leftists", "radicals", "criminals," and "illegals." Expect to see troops in the streets of Chicago, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Los Angeles, New York, etc. Protestors will be arrested under "emergency provisions." Journalists will be detained. Social media accounts will disappear. The public will be told to shut up. And, shazam, it is all legal.

We saw federal agents brutalize peaceful protestors in Lafayette Square in June 2020. Did the military refuse? No. Did "the system" save us from January 6, family separation, a Muslim ban, ICE raids, CBP abuses, etc.? No. The system will grind on unchecked and be pretty much cruel. Nobody, especially churchgoers, should dare say that the USA is a "Christian" country. GOD's listening. Karma never forgets names and addresses.

As of this writing, the joint report has not been issued. It will undoubtedly be issued on April 20 - Easter Sunday. President Trump will say it is about protecting America, but really it is about enlarging and protecting his authority. This is how authoritarianism arrives, not with tanks first, but with memos, press events, and a scared public hoping somebody else will stop it. Sorry, nobody is coming. Congress needs to fear us more than they fear President Trump. Silence is exactly what President Trump is counting on right now. This is the moment. This is the time. The threat is here. By the time you read this letter, the joint report will have been issued recommending that the Act be invoked. Contact your Representative and Senators and demand an investigation and accountability. Congress is constitutionally a co-equal branch of government. Demand that the media report on the looming invocation of the Act.

Thank you

Grateful for our local hospital

Dear Editor:

I read in this newspaper a couple of weeks ago that our local Hospital, Allegan General Hospital (now called Ascension Borgess) will be in the process of being acquired by a Hospital Group from Indiana. Sometimes we don't miss what we have until we no longer have it, which I hope is NOT going to be the case here. Within the past couple of weeks while walking my 60 pound , one-year-old Labrador puppy, I unexpectantly looked like the owner of Marmaduke flying through the air (cartoon for those of you who know whom I'm talking about). I fell to the ground hearing and feeling the crunching of ribs and my daughter took me to the emergency room at AGH. I was treated by a group of caring, knowledgeable, medical professionals and am now in the process of healing. I feel so grateful that we have this facility here in Allegan and hopefully it will be here for many years. Many, Many Thanks!

Police chief appreciates support

Dear Editor:

YOUR police department wants you all to know how much we appreciated the way you gave us support these last couple of weeks. The outpouring of support was the silver lining for all of us. We had supporters that we didn't know that we even had. We always have taken pride in serving this community, but several of YOUR officers mentioned that they had even more pride in serving the community going forward! I had members of other departments say they had never seen anything like it. I would also like to thank all of the city council members for showing up to the discussions on the 22nd. Some of you attended more than one of the meetings. You all listened to the community, and the following day we were able to have the peace of mind knowing that we could still serve OUR community!

Young thespians delight Allegan audiences

By Gari Voss

Five One Act Plays spotlighting extremely talented young actors entertained audiences at the Griswold Auditorium on April 26th & 27th. The 11th Annual One Act Festival, Youth Edition had family members and friends riveted to the action on stage as each story unfolded. Photo: G. Voss

The Allegan Community Players rolled out the Red Carpet and Rick Moll interviewed the young thespians as they arrived. After a brief introduction and autograph signing, the actors entered the Griswold Auditorium to finish preparations to open The 11th Annual One Act Festival, Youth Edition on Saturday, April 26, 2025.

The audience were delighted as students accepting an alien into their classroom during The Intergalactic Student Exchange Program, and wondered where that tarantula may have scuttled off to in Class Pet, and ahhhhed when the youngest babies were wheeled into the nursery for The Smartest Baby in the World. After the intermission, a pair of dancing shoes provided a young dancer with a wonderful connection to her late mother in Time to Dance, and Gedi, the god of fire, needed oodles of persuading before he would agree to forgive humans for they slovenly ways regarding the care of the earth.

During intermission and following the performances, audience members could fill jars with dollars of any denomination as a way of voting for the best One Act. Truly, choosing the best was difficult because each of the five plays displayed extremely talented young actors.

A reminder from the Allegan Community Players… Auditions for the Theater in the Park will be May 12th and 13th, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at Griswold Auditorium. The production will be at the new gazebo in Mahan Park on June 21 & 22, 2025. Auditions for The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe will be held June 16, 17, 23, and 24, 2025. Check the website for times. The production will be on September 26 & 27 at 7:00 p.m., 28 at 2:00 p.m. in the Griswold Auditorium.

Poker Ride supports the work of FACETS

Poker Ride. Riders in Silver Creek Equestrian Park on Sat., Apr. 26th returned with poker chips and turned them in for cards. This player had a fair hand with a pair of kings, but with a couple more cards, she could turn the hand into 4 of a kind or a full house. After buying two cards, the next turned was another king for 3 of a kind, but alas, Lady Luck did not hold, and the fourth king was not to be found. All was in fun and a fundraiser for FACETS to continue clearing trails to ensure safe rides throughout the coming months. (Photo: G. Voss)

By Gari Voss

It was a crisp morning when 56 riders mounted their horses at Silver Creek Equestrian Park on Saturday, April 26, 2025. The object was to ride the trails and collect poker chips while enjoying the serenity of the forest. Upon returning, the chips were exchanged for cards. If a player did not like their original cards, they could purchase up to 3 more by paying $5 for each card.

The Park was filled with rigs and horses. Some riders were enjoying a whole weekend of camping and riding while others came for the day. Karen Woods, the player with a full house won $150 while Vicki LaLonde held a straight and received $75. Though only 2 poker hands received awards, addition money was given during the 50/50 Raffle, and prizes were chosen from the prize table.

After considering awards and park fees, the organizers felt that they would be able to add approximately $800 to the FACETS bank account. These funds are used to reimburse the volunteers for gas and equipment needed to maintain the 60 miles of equestrian trails that cross Allegan County through the Allegan Game Forest and surrounding areas.

The trails are divided into sections, and teams or individuals select a section that they clear in the spring then check at least once a month during the summer and into fall. Anyone wishing to sign up to volunteer can call 269 568-6303 or 269 506-3765.

Organizers Vicki Cassidy, Michele Arthur, and Jackie Metz gave a special thank you to UMECRA, the Upper Midwest Endurance and Competitive Rides Association, for their gift of $500 that helped pay for brush-hogging last fall. There were also thanks given to those who added to the gift table and all the riders who came out to participate in the Poker Ride.

As riders wandered back to campsites or off for another ride, newcomers and veterans spoke of doing this event again.

EMS students learn the power of pediatric care

At the Allegan Tech Center, the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) program recently had a special group of visitors—students from the Head Start classroom housed on the same campus. This hands-on interaction, developed in partnership with Community Action of Allegan County, provided a unique and meaningful opportunity for both the EMS students and the young learners.

The visit was more than just a tour. The EMS students guided the preschoolers through various activities that introduced them to emergency care in an approachable and engaging way. The littles practiced how to bandage an arm injury, listened to their own heartbeats through a stethoscope, explored the inside of an ambulance, helped lift a training mannequin onto a backboard, and even experienced being strapped into a gurney—all with the help and encouragement of the EMS students.

While it was an exciting day for the preschoolers, it was also an incredibly valuable experience for the EMS students. In the field, pediatric calls are not common, thankfully, so many providers have limited experience working with younger patients." This visit allowed students to build confidence, develop communication skills, and gain an understanding of how to approach care for our youngest community members in a calm and compassionate way.

EMS instructor Jodie McLean emphasized the importance of this kind of training, stating, "This opportunity helps students practice the technical side of pediatric care, but more importantly, it teaches them how to build trust with young patients. That trust can make all the difference in an emergency."

Community Action's Early Education Services program, which includes Head Start, aims to support the whole child by fostering partnerships between families, schools, and the broader community. This collaboration is a prime example of how early education and career tech programs can work together to deepen learning for all ages.

By building these connections early, children become more comfortable with medical professionals and equipment they might encounter in an emergency situation. At the same time, EMS students gain experience that helps them become better prepared and more empathetic providers.

Fennville library friends hosting fundraiser

The Fennville Friends of the Library are hosting a fundraiser where they ask donors to "be a piece of the solution." People can help the Friend raise the final $50,000 needed to fund the Fennville District Library's parking lot construction by leaving money in the Parking Lot Project Jar at the library's circulation desk or by buying pieces for one or more of the three puzzles.

Pieces for the 1000-piece puzzle are $10 each, $50 per piece for the 500-piece puzzle, and $150 per piece for the 100-piece puzzle. Donors who purchase puzzle pieces will be given a thank you gift and invited to sign their name on the "We Love Our Donors" canvas, which the library will retain and display. When completed, the puzzles will display the concept art of the completed parking lot and upper porch.

Outside of the fundraiser, the library's parking lot renovation is partially funded through a grant provided by the Michigan Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity. This renovation will make the parking lot friendlier to patrons in terms of safety and accessibility, as well as address environmental concerns and secure the future longevity of the parking lot. The new upper porch area that is to replace an unsafe driveway adjacent to the library's entrance will provide patrons with an outdoor space to relax, as well as a fresh new space for library programming.

If you would like to help the Fennville District Library fund the construction of the new parking lot, you can stop by the library to do so, or reach out for alternative methods via email at info@fennvillelibrary.org or phone at (269) 561-5050.

Faces in the Crowd

By G C Stoppel

This week's question is about tariffs and economy, and how it is impacting your life.

- Man at a gas station on M-89: "We have to have faith in our President that he knows what he is doing. God put him in office, and God doesn't make mistakes. So I say we have to have faith in him and trust him."

-Man, same location: "Well, it doesn't look good right now, but we've been through this before and came out ahead. But what do I know, huh?"

-Couple in front of the Blue Goose Café, Fennville: Woman: Rolled her eyes, "That's what everyone has been talking about all the time. I don't know. I'm worried about our Social Security and Medicare and Medicaid." Man with her: "It's going to get real rough." Woman again, "I'm worried about it for our kids."

-Woman in front of the Allegan Public Library: "()*&^% I can't believe what is going on. This guy is a madman! He's ruining everything. At the end of last year we had a growing economy, and now it looks like we are doing The Great Depression, Part II."

- Woman with her, "I give up. I just plain give up." Starts crying. "No matter what, I can't get ahead. And what he's doing to education, and everything else."

-Man in front of the Huntington Bank: "So far, I don't see much difference. I'm not buying a car and I drink Bud and Jack Daniels, and that's made right here in the USA, so maybe it won't be so bad, at least for me."

-Woman, same location: "I'm not so worried about what he's doing to the economy; it's the social programs that bother me. You know, food for those who rely on food banks, and education. Things like that."

-Man near Minnie's, "No big deal. We have to tighten our belts a bit, that's all. It's worth it to save our country from ruin. Trump's doing the right thing. He's no dummy, you know."

-Couple with him, Man: "I don't know if he's right or not. I guess we have to trust that he has some smart people helping him do the right thing. I just don't know." Woman: "Well, I don't trust him. Not now, anyway, Maybe if things turn out okay it'll be different."

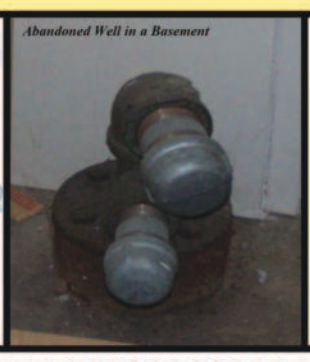
-Woman, near the Allegan Post Office: "I have no idea. I can't figure things out anymore. Life used to be more simple, but now… I just don't know. I have no idea. Sorry."

-Man standing near her: "It's not just the economy. He is destroying everything. I'm sick about it. There's going to be nothing left worthwhile for our grandchildren."

PROTECT YOUR DRINKING WATER: PLUG ABANDONED WELLS

WHAT IS AN ABANDONED WELL?

Graphic: MDEQ



Abandoned Well in a Basement

A well which:

- Has its use permanently discontinued.
- Is in such disrepair that its continued use for obtaining groundwater is impractical.
- Has been left uncompleted.
- Is a threat to groundwater resources or may be a health or safety hazard.

Abandoned Wells

Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

If you are the owner of the abandoned, unplugged well and would like assistance in plugging the well. Please contact Allegan Water Utilities at 269-686-1117 or by emailing to Doug Sweeris at dsweeris@cityofallegan.org

DANGERS OF UNPLUGGED ABANDONED WELLS

Safety Hazard—Each year the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) receives reports of people, mostly children, falling into old wells. Injury or death may result.

Health Hazard—Abandoned wells act as conduits for contaminants to move from the surface into deeper aquifers. Drinking water contamination has been caused by abandoned wells.

Environmental Hazard—Deteriorated well casings or open, uncased boreholes allow movement of water between previously separated aquifers. This can degrade water quality. Abandoned wells have also been used for illegal dumping of waste.

Property owners are responsible for plugging abandoned wells on their property.

HOW TO LOCATE ABANDONED WELLS

- ✔ Search for water well drilling logs or old billing statements that show well depth and well location.
- ✔ Information can be found by contacting (a) the contractor who drilled or serviced the well, (b) the local health department, or (c) the MDEQ, Geological Survey Division in Lansing.
- ✔ If there are no records available for your well, look for the following:
  - ↘ Pipes sticking out of the ground.
  - ↘ Pipes sticking through walls or floors in the basement.
  - ↘ Electrical switch boxes out in the yard.
  - ↘ Cement pits in and under sheds.
  - ↘ Old crock, brick or stone structures
  - ↘ Windmills or old hand pumps
- ✔ Metal detectors may be used for locating buried wells:
  - ↘ First, locate where the old water line exited the home or building.
  - ↘ From this point, survey the ground with the metal detector moving away from the structure.
  - ↘ Use a marker to designate the location of any readings you get.
  - ↘ Well casings are typically 4 to 5 feet below grade and are located between 3 to 25 feet from your home.

Arbor Day focused on trees and the environment

By Gari Voss

The City of Allegan and private citizens acknowledged the importance of trees, bushes and numerous other perennials as April came to a close. The weekend began with the Arbor Day Celebration scheduled by the city which was followed with the distribution of trees and shrubs at the Allegan Conservation District. The final event will be the distribution of seedlings at North Ward Early Childhood Center.

City of Allegan installs Tupelo tree

Allegan's Arbor Day Celebration on Friday, April 25, 2025, installed a Firestarter Tupelo (Black Gun) tree in front of the Griswold Auditorium, 401 Hubbard St. Laurie Courtney, the city's Public Works parks coordinator, welcomed everyone. To begin the celebration, Mayor Traci Perrigo read Allegan's Arbor Day Proclamation reiterating the importance of trees to ecology, aesthetics and human well-being.

Courtney introduced the group to the Firestarter Tupelo, or Gum, tree that was purchased from the Twin Lakes Nursery. The tree is known for standing upright rather than sending out a wide canopy. During the summer, the foliage is a dark green and turns into a vivid autumn color early in the fall and can retain the color much longer than most deciduous trees.

A benefit of the Firestarter Tupelo is that it will be a beautiful addition to the lawn of the Griswold for years to come, and it is a much cleaner tree than the Ginko that was removed during the reconstruction of Hubbard Street.

On April 29th, Courtney will do a program with the preschool students at the North Ward Early Childhood Center. During that celebration, the students will be given a white pine seedling that they can plant in their own yards.

These events assist in keeping Allegan on the Arbor Foundation's Tree City USA roles.

Allegan Conservation District distributes seedlings

On Saturday, April 26, 2025, the Allegan Conservation District distributed seedlings to 98 individuals and families who wanted to add trees or shrubs to their yards or acreage. This year, the focus seemed to be on the berries and fruit bearing trees, which kept the staff and 5 volunteers busy filling orders.

Alison Peterson-Loll explained that the 100 pre-sold blueberry plants went quickly. Other popular varieties were the 200 red mulberries, 150 persimmon, 250 sugar maples, 1,250 white pine, and 200 Douglas fir. The firs and spruce were again well received. The least requested was the Black Walnut. Though it gives many nuts, the hickory was favored.

On the day of the sale, favorites were those varieties that could feed fauna like the Shagbark Hickory, Winterberry, Downy Serviceberry, Nannyberry, and American Plum. In addition, the flowering gray dogwood and Meadowsweet spirea will be added to many properties in the county.

The work of the Conservation District focuses on the many facets of guiding the public on protecting and sustaining natural resources - earth, water and air that sustain flora and fauna,. The Allegan team has a wide breath of experience to provide education and assistance with a variety of conservation activities which focus on soil health and regenerative agriculture.

As spring turns into summer, the Allegan Conservation District invites the public to participate May 7th in the Tree of Heaven Workshop at Modales Winery from 6-8pm; May 10th in the Bird Walk through the Armintrout-Milbocker Preserve from 9-11:30am; May 22nd on Volunteer Day from 10am-1pm at the Allegan Pollinator Garden; May 31st in the Native Plant Sale at the ACD from 9am-1pm; June 7th in the Lake Allegan Carp Derby at Lake Allegan from 7am-3pm; and more.

For additional information regarding the Allegan Conservation District, their vision and mission, assistance with the environment and agriculture/gardening, and their new facility on Taft Road, visit https://www.alleganCD.org/ or contact Alison at Alison.PetersonLoll@macd.org.

Lingbeek sets Otsego strikeout mark

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

WYOMING—Dominant.

That one word pretty much sums up Otsego softball standout Audrey Lingbeek's pitching performance against Wyoming on Thursday, April 24.

Lingbeek struck out 19 batters and didn't allow a hit in the opening game of the doubleheader, leading the Bulldogs to the 12-3 win.

That strikeout total set a new school record, breaking the previous mark of 17 held by Molly Sleeman (2010) and Caitlin Snow (2004).

Lingbeek struck out the first three batters she faced and didn't slow down, also striking out the side in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

The only non-strikeout outs came on a second-inning popup and a seventh-inning flyout.

Alyvia Farrell led the offensive charge for Otsego, going 4-for-5 with a double, a triple, three runs and four RBI. Mikayla Bateman went 3-for-4 with two RBI and Addy Lucas was 2-for-2 with two triples, two runs and three RBI.

Cassie Holland was nearly as dominant in the pitcher's circle in the second game, striking out 16 batters as the Bulldogs won 14-6.

Bateman (3-for-5 with a double, a run and seven RBI), Madi Dendel (2-for-5 with a run and an RBI) and Sydneigh Mosher (2-for-5) had multiple hits.

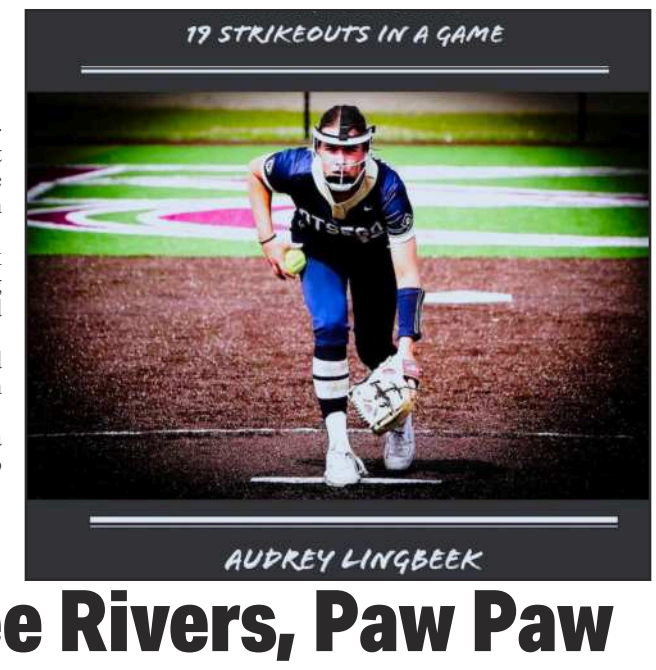
In a Wolverine Conference doubleheader on Tuesday, April 22, Otsego swept Sturgis 10-0 and 11-0.

Lingbeek threw a five-inning no-hitter in the first game, striking out 15. The only base runners came on hit batters.

Holland and Lingbeek each had two hits, including a home run for Lingbeek and a triple for Holland.

In the nightcap, Holland tossed a one-hit shutout with one walk and 10 strikeouts.

Farrell, Dendel and Sophia Pierce each had two hits to lead the Bulldog offense.



Plainwell picks up victories over Three Rivers, Paw Paw

THREE RIVERS—Shea Hodapp was a force to be reckoned with during Plainwell's Wolverine Conference clash with Three Rivers on Monday, April 28.

In addition to scoring a pair of goals, Hodapp also picked up an assist in leading the Trojans to the 5-1 victory.

With the win, Plainwell moved to 6-2 overall and remained unbeaten in league play at 4-0.

While pleased with the outcome of the game, Plainwell coach Garry Snyder would like to see his team finish a higher percentage of its scoring opportunities.

"We haven't been finishing our chances lately and tonight was another example of that," he said. "We had nearly 50 scoring chances and came up short on most of them. Don't get me wrong. We played well and we were moving the ball.

"It's just that the shots were either hitting the post and bouncing out or were directly at the goalkeeper."

Part of the inability to finish, Snyder believes, stems from some injuries that forced some Plainwell players into roles they typically don't fill.

"We still have players with injuries, so needed to improvise a little," Snyder said.

Alayna Eldred, Lucy Benson and Emma Taylor each scored once for Plainwell. Caitlyn Ridgeway chipped in with three assists, while Emma Rayman had one assist.

In its conference showdown with Paw Paw on Wednesday, April 23, Plainwell emerged with the 2-0 win.

Not that it was an easy game.

"Paw Paw was a frustrating game," Snyder said. "They backed into the defensive third of the filed and we took 34 shots and scored on just two of them.

"Again, we have a few injuries, so that did not help our discipline in the attack."

Plainwell led 1-0 at halftime and added an insurance goal late in the second half.

"Paw Paw came out with more confidence and it showed," Snyder said. "It definitely was not our finest moment this season, but we won so we'll take it and move on."

Olivia Ranger was in goal and earned the shutout for the Trojans.

NILES—The girls tennis teams from Allegan and Brandywine met for a SAC/Lakeland match on Monday, April 28, and the battles and No. 1 and No. 2 doubles were fierce.

And while the teams split those flights—Allegan's No. 2 team of Madison Cook/Ireland Dewey won 4-6, 7-6 (1), 6-1 and the No. 1 team of Taylor Fuller/Hanna Kievit lost 6-3, 6-7, 7-3—it was the Tigers who prevailed overall by a 5-3 score.

"Just like in years past, this match was very competitive," Allegan coach Damien Arthur said.

On Saturday, April 26, Allegan traveled to Grand Rapids for the seven-team Mustang Invitational at NorthPointe Christian. In addition to the seventh-ranked Tigers, the tourney also featured two other teams ranked in Division 4: No. 3 Traverse City St. Francis and No. 6 NorthPointe.

And despite missing four of its top 14 players, the Tigers tied Elk Rapids for the most matches won and ended up in fourth place.

NorthPointe won, followed by TC St. Francis and Elk Rapids.

No. 1 doubles Kievit/Fuller and No. 3 doubles Augustine/Scheffler had the best showing for the Tigers, winning their respective flights.

Two days before that, on Thursday, April 24, the Tigers swept league rival South Haven 8-0.

At singles, No. 1 Fales, No 2 Judith Ducurau and No. 4 Serenity Puente each won 6-0, 6-0, while No. 3 Halstead won 6-1, 6-1.

Fuller/Kievit took their No. 1 doubles match 6-0, 6-0. No. 2 Cook/Haas and No. 3 Augustine/Haley Mellon both dropped just one game, while No. 4 Kelley/Thompson won 6-3, 6-0.

VanHouten added a 2-for-3 effort that included three RBI.

Bulldogs earn pair of mercy-rule-shortened triumphs

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

STURGIS—Peyton Dennany scored two goals and assisted on two others to help propel the Otsego girls soccer team to a 9-0 win over host Sturgis on Monday, April 28.

The game was stopped after the first half due to the mercy rule.

"Our attackers had an enjoyable evening, with the Peytons—Dennany and Johnson—leading the way," Otsego coach Levi Butcher said. "We wanted to have a fast start, especially away from home, and I'd say we accomplished it."

A fast start, indeed.

Otsego scored six goals in the first 14 minutes and never looked back.

"(Scoring six goals that quickly) wasn't quite how we expected it would go, but we're happy that we put this one to bed pretty early," Butcher said.

Grace Gerst added a goal and an assist, while Maddie Ragan, Lexi Gross and Reagen Engbers had one goal each.

On Wednesday, April 23, the Bulldogs bested Edwardsburg 8-0 in another league affair.

It was a balanced offensive attack, as eight Bulldogs had either a goal or an assist.

Peyton Dennany again led the charge with two goals and two assists.

Gross, Witteveen, Sydney Timmons, Haylee Dennany, Alivia Kuiper and Ruby Gerst each scored once. Grace Gerst notched two assists.

"Edwardsburg came out a little slow, and we jumped on the opportunity with two early goals," Butcher said. "(The Eddies) battled throughout and defended tough in their box, clearing multiple shots out of the goal mouth. That tough defending got them in a bit of trouble at times, as they gave away two penalty kicks."

Gross and Haylee Dennany converted on those penalty kicks, with Haylee Dennany's ending the game via the mercy rule.

Defensively, Otsego held Edwardsburg without a shot on goal. Zoe Alkire was credited with the shutout in goal.

Saugatuck posts 2-0 win over Fennville

By Jason Wesseldyk

SAUGATUCK—After sitting out the previous game while nursing an injury, leading scorer Neave Rewa returned the lineup for the Saugatuck girls soccer team in its showdown with Fennville on Monday, April 28.

And Rewa made her presence felt, scoring a goal to help the Trailblazers secure the 2-0 victory over the Blackhawks.

The win was the third straight and fifth in sixth games for Saugatuck, which improved to 6-2 overall.

According to Saugatuck coach Jim Theis, the game shouldn't have been as close as it turned out to be.

"We had numerous opportunities—more than 20—to score, but we weren't connecting," he said. "Credit to Fennville for defending well in the box."

Ava Tringali joined Rewa as a goal scorer for the Trailblazers. She also assisted on Rewa's tally.

Saugatuck keeper Kennedy Gustafson stopped all five shots she faced to secure the shutout.

"Our defense was solid again, limiting any serious threats from the Fennville offense," Theis said.

Fennville coach Mark Gray praised the play of defender Nadia Perez, among others.

"Nadia played great on defense in the middle for us," Gray said. "Mayling Huynh and Christina Mendoza also played well in the midfield."

Saugatuck won by that same 2-0 score when it traveled to Delton on Friday, April 25.

With Rewa unable to suit up, Jordan Sanders and Ellery Penapento stepped up to lead the Saugatuck offense with one goal each.

Mallory Hass had an assist.

"We had several key players, including Neave, out of the game," Theis said. "So it was nice to see Jordan and Ellery come through for us. And our defense really limited Delton's opportunities.

Gustafson made eight saves during her stint in goal, with Julia Lowry also seeing time between the net and making two saves.

Saugatuck was credited with a forfeit win against Coloma on Wednesday, April 23.

Fennville, meanwhile, bested Black River 1-0 on Friday, April 25, after setting for a scoreless tie against Berrien Springs on Thursday, April 24.

Abby Gonzalez finished with six saves for Fennville. Gonzalez was also in goal for the shutout against Berrien Springs.

By Jason Wesseldyk

WYOMING—In the first game of a doubleheader against Wyoming on Thursday, April 24, the Otsego baseball team held a 7-3 edge in hits.

That, however, wasn't enough to produce a win, as the Bulldogs fell 4-1.

Otsego also lost the second game, 7-4.

The Bulldogs scored their lone run of the opener in the top of the seventh inning, as Landon Wrobleski singled to drive home Peyton Koenig.

Koenig finished the game 3-for-3, while Jaxon Ray, Ryan Cockerel and Kyle Holladay joined Wrobleski with a single.

The second game was knotted at 2-2 before Wyoming scored four times in the bottom of the third inning to take a lead it wouldn't relinquish.

Karl Hildebrand went 3-for-2 in the loss, with Holladay, Wrobleski and Brennan Perry each singling.

Matthew Jackson (two runs on two hits with two walks and four strikeouts in four innings) started and took the loss in the opener, while Nate Maisel (six runs on five hits with four walks and five strikeouts in three innings) started and took the loss in game two.

Two days earlier, Otsego picked up a pair of five-inning, mercy-rule-shortened wins over Sturgis in a Wolverine Conference twin bill. The Bulldogs took game won 10-0 and game two 11-0.

Hildebrand, Perry and Jaydon Watson each had two hits for Otsego in game one, including a triple for Hildebrand. Hildebrand also pitched the complete game, allowing one hit and striking out eight.

The Bulldogs only had four hits in game two, but took advantage of six walks and three errors to score twice in both the first and third innings and seven times in the fourth frame.

Ray, Hildebrand, Wrobleski and Perry accounted for the hits. Watson pitched all five innings, giving up three hits with five walks and five strikeouts.

Otsego track performs well at G.R. Elite Challenge

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

GRAND RAPIDS—The Grand Rapids Elite Challenge on Saturday, April 26, provided the Otsego track & field teams the opportunity to compete against some strong competition.

And the Bulldogs acquitted themselves well, as the girls placed sixth out of 26 teams with 41 points and the boys placed 11th out of 32 teams with 30 points.

As has been the case throughout the season, Emma Hoffman played the starring role for the Otsego girls.

After winning the 1,600 with a personal-record time of 4:54, Hoffman dominated in the 3,200 to win with a time of 10:24.06.

Hoffman also anchored the 4x800 team that placed third at 10:18.08. Taylor Mitchell, Skylar Mejeur and Madeline Goodwin joined Hoffman on that team.

Audrey Holmes had the next-best finish for the Otsego girls, placing second in shot put at 34-1.5.

Other top-10 finishes for the Bulldogs were: Madden Fitzpatrick in shot put (fifth at 33-0.5 and eighth in discus at 93-1); Isabella Bailey (seventh in discus at 94-1); Taylor Klimp (tied for 10th in pole vault at 7-0); and Skylar Brooks (tied for 10th in pole vault at 7-0).

For the Otsego boys, Caleb Wesseldyk had the best showing. That included a runner-up effort in the 3,200 at 9:45.47.

Wesseldyk was also ninth in the 1,600 (4:30.28) and anchored the third-place 4x800 relay team (8:30.87), with Jack Cook, Holton Mulherin and Matthew Long also on that team.

Alex Robbins also had a pair of 10-team performances, as he was fifth in shot put (49-2) and sixth in discus (151-9).

Also placing in the top 10 were: Micheal Spitzner in the 300 hurdles (fifth at 42.63); Cook in the 200 (sixth at 23.08); Ethan Simpson in long jump (eighth at 19-8.25); Carson Brooks in pole vault (ninth at 12-0); and the 4x200 relay team of Zeke Andrina, Roman Mitchell, Dylan Towne and Cook (eighth at 1:36.87).

Four days earlier, the Bulldogs squared off with Vicksburg and Edwardsburg in a Wolverine Conference double dual. And both Otsego teams finished the day 2-0.

The girls beat Vicksburg 86-51 and Edwardsburg 77-60, while the boys bested Vicksburg 102.5-34.5 and Edwardsburg 89-48.

Olivia Klimp had three individual-event wins for the Otsego girls, as she won long jump (15-4), the 100 hurdles (17.93) and the 300 hurdles (53.23).

Hoffman won the 1,600 (4”56/59) and the 3,200 (10:30.59), while Holmes (34-2.5 in shot put) and Fitzpatrick (91.5 in discus) also won individual events.

In the relays, the Bulldogs 4x400 team of Goodwin, Isabella MCCamman, Taylor Klimp and Olivia Klimp (4:28.45) and the 4x800 team of Hoffman, Taylor Mitchell, Brenna Yocum and Taylor Klimp (11:25.79) claimed victories.

Wesseldyk was part of three wins on the boys side: the 1,600 (4:31.16), the 3,200 (9:58.49) and the 4x800 relay with Mulherin, Trevor Meyer and Long (8:28.86).

The win in the 4x800 was part of a relay sweep for Otsego: the 4x100 team of Andrina, Towne, Mitchell and Simpson posted a 46.48; the 4x200 team of Andrina, Towne, Simpson and Kaleb Koestner posted a 1:36.96; and the 4x400 team of Towne, Long, Andrina and Cook posted a time of 3:42.11.

HOLLAND—Following a three-game series with OK Silver rival Calvin Christian earlier in the week, the Hopkins baseball team stepped out of league play to face Holland Christian on Friday, April 25.

And it appeared as if the Vikings would pick up the win, as they led 6-2 through six innings.

But Holland Christian rallied for five runs in the bottom of the seventh to secure the 7-6 victory in walk-off fashion.

Trent Smith and Cruz Hitzler each had two hits in the loss, with Smith also scoring two runs. Kellen Ford, Cody Benting, Michael Woollam and Wyatt Stedman each doubled.

The game was tied at 2-2 before Hopkins scored four times in the top of the third to go up 6-2.

On Wednesday, April 23, the Vikings traveled to Grandville to play Calvin Christian in a single game after the teams had split a doubleheader the previous day. This game was all Hopkins, as the Vikings won 10-0 in a five-inning, mercy-rule-shortened affair.

Already up 4-0, Hopkins plated six runs in the top of the fourth. Big hits in the frame included a two-run triple by Ford, a two-run single by Benting, an RBI single by Stedman and an RBI double by Hitzler.

Hitzler finished the game 3-for-3, while Ford and Stedman each had two hits.

Smith earned the win, going all five innings. He allowed two hits with one walk and six strikeouts.

In the twin bill the day before, Hopkins lost the first game to Calvin Christian 3-0, but bounced back to win the nightcap 3-1.

Christian Smigiel drove in all three runs for the Vikings in game two with a double and a single. He also picked up the win, going six innings and limiting Calvin to one run on three hits while striking out four.

In game one, Smigiel provided the lone extra-base hit for Hopkins with a triple. Ford, Benting and Landon Dandrow each added a single.

Ford pitched well in a losing cause, striking out 15 in 6.2 innings. He gave up three runs on three hits and three walks.

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

AHS loses second loop ball game: Allegan's baseball team lost its second Tri-County league game Friday afternoon when the Zeeland Chics scored a 3 to 1 victory on their home diamond.

Although the locals outhit the Chics, 5 to 4, their defensive play cost them the game. Zeeland capitalized on two wild pitches, two errors and two stolen bases to score their three runs.

Zeeland tallied in the second inning. Boonstra was safe on Warren DeLano's error. He stole second, moved to third on a single and scored when an attempted pickoff throw was wild for an error.

For the first five innings, the Tigers could collect only two safe blows off the Chic pitcher, Kroll.

In the sixth with one away, Jim Meyer walked, stole second and advanced to third on an error. Miles Hadden, next up, flied out for the second out. Ken VanPatten then came through to score Meyer and break for Allegan. Fran Cook followed suit with a single to left, but both men were left stranded as DeLano popped out to the catcher to end the inning.

Wrestlers impress some kids: In the same air that a carnival or circus has about it, the Allegan Rocket League sponsored Big Time Wrestling at the Allegan High School gym last Friday night.

The "sporting event," which netted $500 profit for the Rocket League, allowed such things as kicking, biting and hair pulling, all of which the crowd seemed to enjoy.

The first match featured two fierce gentlemen, one of whom passed out souvenirs before and after the show. The other was in charge of setting up the ring before the show began. They gave the crowd a preview of things to come.

The next match served to split the crowd between cheering for the good guys and the bad guys. In this match, the bad guy—Gary Fultz—won.

Next came an appropriately named lady called Heather Feather, a 300-plus-pound gargantua who came out on top of her match by incorporating a seemingly bone-crushing bear hug that subdued an opponent who weighed in a half her size.

The next match presented Lanny Poffo, who may well have been the only natural athlete in the show. Poffo demonstrated his skills by doing cartwheels in the ring and landing on his feet after being thrown out of the ring a number of times.

County theaters featured in film: Two historic movie theaters in Allegan County will be featured in an documentary to be filmed this spring.

During a three-week journey around the state, a digital video crew of two from Central Michigan University will take a look at the Regent Theatre in Allegan and the Sun Theatre building in Plainwell May 26 and 27. The defunct Sun Theatre now houses the Plainwell Area Chamber of Commerce and merchandise shops.

Documentary producer Kevin Corbett, a Ph.D. on the CMU faculty, plans to create a Public Broadcasting System program one or two hours long about the cultural history, current status and potential future of historic small-town movie houses.

Regent Theatre, Allegan

"These theaters are important for both the communities where they stand and for our culture," he said. "The purpose of this documentary is to draw attention to their historic, social and symbolic value."

Corbett said his academic objective is to study the social and cultural values that surround moviegoing.

"It's a research interest," he said. "These theaters are beginning to disappear. But some towns around the country are finding ways to renovate their theaters.

"My goal is to encourage that as much as possible."

Three boys basketball players earn AP All-State recognition: Otsego's Charlie Woodhams and Hopkins' Tyler Zomerlei had a lot in common on the hardwood.

For starters, both were senior leaders for their respective teams this season, with Woodhams helping lift the Bulldogs to their third consecutive Wolverine Conference championship and Zomerlei helping the Vikings secure their first OK Silver championship in 23 years.

Each also emerged as the scoring leader for his team.

It seemed only fitting, then, that these two Allegan County standouts ended their seasons on the same court, as Otsego posted a 66-49 win over Hopkins in a Division 2 district semifinal before the tournament was suspended and ultimately cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Woodhams scored a game-best 25 points in the showdown, while Zomerlei netted a team-best 17 points.

And due to strong performances like that, Woodhams and Zomerlei have something else in common: both were included on the Associated Press Division 2 All-State team.

Woodhams garnered First Team honors, with Zomerlei picking up Honorable Mention recognition.

Martin junior Collin Coburn gave the county a third All-State honoree, as he was included as an Honorable Mention selection in Division 4.

"Careful, now," Lanny Poffo seems to be saying to Tony Pez who would like to drop Poffo on his hairless head.

At a session of court held in the courthouse in Allegan County, Michigan, on 3/25, 2025

Present: Honorable Matthew Antkoviak

Circuit Court Judge

Plaintiffs filed a verified ex parte motion for service of process in the discretion of the court. The court further finds, pursuant to MCR 2.105(I), that service of process by publication is the best available method of service of process reasonably calculated to give Defendants actual notice of the proceedings and an opportunity to be heard.

IT IS ORDERED that Plaintiffs must serve the Defendants by publication for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper located in Allegan County, Michigan.

RELIGION SECTION

Do you remember the fable of Chicken Little. The basic story is that a chicken was hit on the head by an acorn, then began shouting to everyone around him that the sky was falling. Soon, all of the other animals were petrified that the end was coming.

For hundreds, if not thousands of years, we have been worried that the end was soon upon us. It has happened several times during our lifetime. In the 1940s, we thought the world was coming to an end because of the atomic bomb. In the 1960s, the end was fast upon us because of Russia and the Cuban Missile Crisis. In 1999, it was Y2K - all the computers would shut down, planes would fall out of the sky, and electricity would stop flowing. The next decade we were warned that the Mayan Long Calendar was about to end and the world would end with it. No one noticed that the MLC ran its course over several hundred years, came to an end, and the next day started over. This time would be no different. The calendar completed its course, the world did not come to an end, and the new long calendar began the following morning.

A number of Christians are seemingly almost obsessed with the "End Times" that will see the Second Coming of Jesus and the end life as we know it. What adds to the conversation is the uncertainly and many different interpretations of precisely of what will happen, and when. For example, immediately after the death of Pope Francis, the end-time proponents announced that the Fifth Seal from the Book of Revelation had been broken, and the end was all the closer.

Before Jesus ascended into heaven he promised to come again. Ever since that time we have been watching and waiting, and many followers have been looking for the signs of the end.

To learn all we can about as much of our faith is always a good thing. However, too much obsessing about the End Times tilts our focus away from the more challenging issues of today. If our thoughts and hearts are on all of the joys of eternal life in heaven, we are less likely to see the poverty of mind, body, soul, and spirit all around us. I think we should also remember that you and I live in the present moment, as do all other people around us. To never address their concerns and needs goes against what St James taught. He wrote that it was useless to tell a hungry man to 'have faith,' and do nothing for that person. Rather, feed the person first (i.e. take care of whatever their needs might be) and then share your faith with him or her.

Too much God-talk and lectures on faith is not always helpful; too much care and compassion without sharing one's faith is not helpful, either. It takes a balance, and to find that balance requires careful and prayer spiritual discernment.
